Strikers

(International News Service)
SIOUX CITY, Ia., Aug. 16.—One hundred armed special deputies were ready today to penetrate the highway blockade of striking farmers. They were sworn in by Sheriff John A. Anderson last night to protect trucks, laden with produce and livestock, intended for the Sioux City market.

Tension increased as it became apparent that the 4,000 agricultural strikers were determined to resist efforts of non-striking farmers to break through the barricades and picketing lines they have established on all roads leading into this city.

A heavy steel cable, it was reported, has been stretched across a bridge at the Woodbury county line where 40 truckloads of milk have been intercepted.

It was reported that some of the striking farmers were armed.

PA NEW OBSERVES

A New Wilmington correspondent writes: "For three nights last week we sat up till 3 a. m. watching shooting stars. Thursday nights display was most gorgeous. We did not count the stars as they did in Cleveland, but it seems as if there must have been at least one hundred. We are not 'up' in astronomy, but believe that we are due for an even greater display some time next year. Every 33 1/2 years, the encyclopedia says. Does any one know?"

Legion of Honor golfers were treated to a big surprise last evening when the state motor patrol failed to show up to test their lights. For the past few weeks the patrol members have been stationed along the Ellwood City road on Monday evenings, checking up on the cars of the golfers and others.

New Castle firemen are all set for a big time the last of the week, when the Northern Pennsylvania Fireman's association will hold its annual convention at Conneaut Lake park. Frank Robinson of New Castle is vice president, while Harry Colley is a director of the association.

Speaking about conventions, there will be few legionnaires left in town this week as the state convention of the legion being held at Pittsburgh begins to warm up. Friday and Saturday are the big days.

City police merit special recognition today for their admirable handling of last night's mob of fire spectators. The blaze was not such a spectacular one, fortunately, but you wouldn't have thought that if you'd seen the crowd.

Gruesome Find Made By Man In Joliet, Illinois

Store Owner Finds Human
Head Wrapped In Paper

POLICE HUNTING FOR VICTIM'S TORSO

(International News Service)
JOLIET, Ill., Aug. 16.—A human head was the gruesome sight that greeted N. J. Hausmann, a shopkeeper, when he unwrapped a package found outside the rear door of his store today.

The package was done up in blue wrapping paper. The head was that of a man about 40 with a heavy growth of auburn hair. It was well preserved.

Examination showed the right cheek bone had been fractured and that there was an indentation at the base of the skull, probably delivered by a sharp instrument. It was impossible to determine how long the victim had been dead, as the skull had apparently been preserved in chemicals.

Well Preserved
Deputy Coroner Willard Blood said he felt certain the head had not been dug up by ghouls, as it would not have been so well preserved. He declared the severance at the neck was performed by inexperienced hands.

Police at once began a check on missing persons. Search for the torso was instituted.

Johnson Is Elected School Supervisor

Will Succeed Clare B. Book As Head Of Shenango Township Schools

Glen W. Johnson, who has been principal of the Shenango township high school, was named supervisor principal to succeed Clare B. Book, recently elected assistant county superintendent of schools, at a meeting of the Shenango township school board last evening.

The two positions will be combined, eliminating a position in the schools, which will save the taxpayers of the township money. George Phelps of the South New Castle Boro schools was elected to fill the vacancy in the high school.

At the same time, the school officials set September 7, as the opening date of the schools, both elementary and high school.

A record enrollment is expected in the township schools when the new term starts this fall.

(International News Service)
GRANITE, Okla., Aug. 16.—Armed posses of officers and citizens scoured the Wichita Mountains and the entire countryside today in a hunt for 19 desperate convicts who escaped from the State Reformatory here.

Numerous crimes in the vicinity, committed during the past 36 hours, were attributed to the escaped felons.

During the absence of the institution's woman warden, Mrs. George A. Waters, 23 prisoners overpowered a guard Sunday night and fled. Only four were recaptured.

Constant Terror

Inhabitants of the region were in constant terror as reports trickled in of depredations, supposedly committed by the fugitives. Two youths who attempted to attack Miss Mary V. Phinney at Mangum, Okla., were believed to be members of the company. The girl succeeded in tearing herself loose and fled from her assailants.

The fugitives were commandeering automobiles in their attempts to flee the vicinity. Many drivers were abducted and later released and one motorist, Homer Yarbrough, was stabbed when he resisted.

Warden Mrs. Water dismissed two reformatory guards accused of negligence in connection with the prison break.

WILL ROGERS says:

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Aug. 16.—"You can always depend on the real old American Negro to say the apt things in a few words."

Up here at the ranch the other day a Negro private of the famous Tenth Cavalry (who are taking care of the American horses) was leading a tired horse around that had lost in his particular competition. He didn't know anyone was in hearing distance, but we heard him say, "Never mind, old boy, you didn't win nothing, but I loves you."

Now let the educated diplomat think of a more fitting thing to say to our foreign and native competitors than that. Never mind what boy or girl, from what state or what country, come and was defeated, "We loves you."

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 16.—A terrific explosion in the bronzing plant of the United States Aluminum company at Logan's Ferry rocked the upper Allegheny valley today, damaged a plant unit and caused damage estimated at $40,000.

No workmen were hurt. The blast let go only a few minutes before a crew of workers were to begin work in the unit.

Sifting of aluminum bronze powder, used as a major pigment, is performed in the unit. Force of the blast shattered the unit's roof and damaged heavy brick walls of the plant.

Fire that followed the explosion was isolated from other plant buildings by a sand blockade.

Today's blast marked the third explosion this year. Last February three men were hurt and another workman was injured in a blast last March.

Governor Pinchot In Accord
And Will Sign Bill If
It Is Passed

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS

HARRISBURG, Aug. 16.—A one per cent general sales tax bill was selected today to run the gamut of a house vote and legislative leaders pinned virtually all hope of success upon it.

With the economy main-spring passed, the new sales measure was started on its way with the good wishes of or gan i z a t i o n and group spokesmen who hailed it as the solution of the assembly's problem of financing the $12,000,000 Talbot relief bill.

Possibility of enacting a revenue-raiser appeared brighter than at any time during the session. Gov. Gifford Pinchot and house and senate leaders met in conference on the sales tax legislation and following the meeting the governor announced "we have all agreed."

The bill was given the right of way in the house. Immediately upon its introduction last night it was referred to the ways and means committee. A recess was called and the committee went into session, report the measure out in short order. Rep. John C. Hermansen, Luzerne, let his cigarette tax bill rest on the calendar. It was on second reading but was not called up last night lest confusion result.

The sales tax bill replaces all other taxation proposals and confers from both branches planned to concentrate their efforts toward its enactment. If it gets through the house, passage in the senate is virtually assured and the governor will sign it.

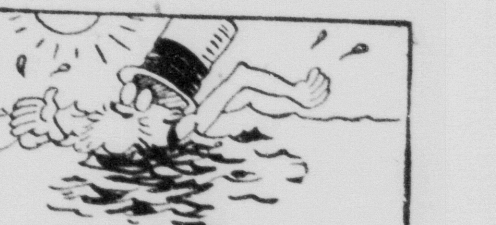

Governor Pinchot announced after the conference yesterday: "We have all agreed that under all the circumstances the best possible way to get revenue for the Talbot $12,000,000 direct relief bill is through a general sales tax of 1 per cent for six months. We are all pledged to go the limit to put it over. In doing this we are submerging all of our own personal views to help out the unemployed."

Although the sales tax was expected to provide release from the assembly deadlock, the legislation will have its opponents. These in-

SUBSTITUTE FOR COUNTY INSTITUTE

Supt. Syling Has Evolved A Plan

First Session Will Be Held On September 10 Probably At Union High

COLLEGE TEACHERS VOLUNTEER SERVICES

County Superintendent of Schools, John C. Syling, announced this morning that a substitute institute will be held in the county schools this fall, taking the place of the regular institute which has been previously held.

Under the state school code, either an institute or a substitute must be held. A bill was presented in the state legislature several weeks ago which would abolish the institute, but Governor Pinchot vetoed the measure, stating that it did not come under the provisions for which the special session was called.

Mr. Syling has been promised the cooperation of the teaching staff at Slippery Rock State Teachers College by Dr. J. Linwood Eisenberg, president of the school, and the assistance of Geneva and Westminster college will also be asked. This will enable a substitute to be held at no expense to the county school district.

The first session will be held on Saturday, September 10, when all the rural schools are expected to be in session. The dates of other meetings will be announced later.

FACTIONS SEEM IN HARMONY ON PROPOSED BILL

clude D. Glenn Moore, former Pinchot floor leader, Chester H. Rhodes, Monroe, and several others who met after the house adjourned for the night.

Another significant step toward completion on the session's work was the lower branch's adoption of the conference report on the Steele bill, keystone of the state economy program. The vote for adoption was 169 to 8, although the bill came back to the floor in the same shape it was when rejected last week.

The report, however, carried assurance from Gov. Gifford Pinchot that there would be no abatement in the months to come in the appropriations to hospitals, educational institutions, and mothers assistance funds. This assurance satisfied the majority of those who had argued for still more extensive economies.

The eight negative votes were cast by the following: Batchelor, Beaver, Bicker, Butler, Hoopes, Berks, Hut-ton, Franklin, Spangler, York, Stadlander, Allegheny, Wilson, Berks and Ziesenheim, Erie.

Sponsors of the Witkin-Blumberg bill to divert $12,000,000 from the motor license fund for relief purposes called up the measure last night and the house agreed to list it for a special order of business at 11 o'clock today. It is opposed by the administration.

Priest Reviles Queen Who Kneels In Prayer Without Her Veil

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 16.—A Mohammedan priest, said to have insulted her majesty, the queen of Persia, because she entered a shrine in western dress and prayed with her veil drawn back, was personally beaten by his majesty, Shah Riza Khan Pahlavi, according to the Daily Herald today.

The Herald's correspondent in Teheran, Persia, reported the queen in a shrine at Meshed in northern Persia, drew her veil aside and knelt in prayer.

The unfortunate priest, not knowing the identity of the worshipper, rushed up and reviled the queen for praying unveiled and also for wearing clothes of the western world.

A crowd assembled and also unaware they were before their queen, took the side of the priest and became hostile.

One of the queen's detectives appeared just in time to prevent serious harm befalling her majesty.

The Shah was notified by telephone and arrived at Meshed the following day. He stalked into the shrine and threw the priest to the floor, striking him painfully. The priest later was fined.

MINERAL WEALTH

(International News Service)
PORTLAND, Ore.—Gold, diamonds and sapphires are romantic stuff, Scott Turner, president of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, admits, but common minerals such as gravel, clay, and pig iron outshine them all. Mineral products producing the greatest wealth in this country in order of importance are coal, petroleum, natural gas, pig iron, clay products, cement, stone, sand and gravel, and copper, Turner asserted.

GILLESPIE-TRAVERS WEDDING DETAILS

A very pretty wedding of interest to many in this vicinity took place
Saturday morning, when Miss Mary
Olive Gillespie, daughter of Mrs.
Anna Gillespie of Findley, O., became the bride of Vincent Travers, son of Mrs. P. S. Travers of 19
Smithfield street, this city.

The ceremony was performed at 9:45 o'clock in the St. Alphonsus church which was beautifully decorated in gorgeous blooms and appropriate musical selections were rendered by the choir and organist.
The Rev. Fr. P. S. Clifford read the nuptial mass in the presence of approximately 50 guests.

The bride was stunning in a gown of white crepe made form fitting with ankle length skirt and jacket.
For head dress she wore a turban,
and she carried a colonial bouquet.
Miss Edna Eckerberger of East Grant street, New Castle, chosen as her attendant, was attired in a frock of pink crepe fashioned on the same lines with turban and accessories to match. Her arm bouquet was made up of pink roses.

Thomas Flannigan served as best man.
Supplementing the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Clifford residence, the appointments being carried out in the predominating tones, and later in the day the bridal party motored to Beaver Falls where the wedding dinner was served.

The bride is a native of this city, having been born and raised here, and attended the local schools. She will be identified by many as proprietress of a beauty shoppe and at present in conducting a shoppe in Findley of her own. The groom holds a responsible position with the B. & O.
railroad.

Late in the evening Mr. Travers and his bride departed on an eastern motor trip. For traveling she selected a smart suit of blue crepe with accessories to harmonize.

MOLDS IN EDUCATION

IT SEEMED almost inevitable, with mounting criticisms of the educational system and the still more rapidly accumulating theories of how it ought to be remade, that sooner or later there would come a cry to "stop educating our children."

The sooner all realize that education—that is, an organized system for arranging a child's environment according to a certain preconceived pattern—will not add to the happiness of the world nor, in most cases, of the child, the better for all.

Education is merely another expression of intellectual life—like philosophical argument or the writing of plays—but the public insists on regarding it with all the solemnity of an institution and being outrageously disappointed when it does not produce all the perfect results which it demands that institutions show and that, incidentally, none of them ever do. The effects of institutionalism on college athletics have gravely debated, but the danger of a similar institutionalism in college classrooms seems to have been overlooked.

Amateurism is demanded of scholastic and collegiate athletics, but the public seems incapable of that attitude toward education. It demands that education bring results—spiritually or politically or in addition to human happiness. On this score people show marked inconsistency. If the college graduate spurns the overalls, education has ruined him, and, if he dons the overalls, his education did him no good.

No one has yet invented that which will remake the world. Not even the modern educational system is such an invention. But that system would come nearer remaking the world if institutions of higher learning were content with being sources of ideas for seekers after ideas. Education is the opposite of shaping all minds to fit one mold.

INSECT MILLENNIUM

Agriculture's worst enemy, the insect, has recruited billions of new members to his vast legions this summer and vanquished man on every front. Man's best trained forces have been driven back and his strongest fortresses have been easily overcome. It has been a costly defeat.

Nature has been on the side of the insect pestilence for two years, and nature is still supreme. Two dry hot years gave the insect armies their chance. They multiplied faster than the best devices of man could exterminate them and this summer they have swept down upon crops, gardens and shrubs in seldom equaled hordes.

Federal agriculturists consider this the most prolific bug year in a decade. Not only are the more harmless insect nuisances unusually prevalent but the insect destroyers of vegetation are present in larger numbers.

Government can spend millions annually in warring on insect enemies and then see all its work and money go for naught. Nature is the ally whose support determines the winner in this eternal battle. Should she next intercede for man by sending some cold winters and wet summers the invasion of bugs will recede again to await a more propitious time.

No doubt even this buggiest year finds fewer insect parasites than there would be if man had never made war against his insect neighbors, but the experience of the last two years has shown the apparent hopelessness of the fight.

Motor vehicle deaths numbered 33,500—a new high record. Accidents were the second most important causes of deaths in men, heart diseases being first. On the other hand, industrial plants reduced employees' injury frequency rates 38 per cent in two years, and railway crossing accidents declined 10 per cent.

In the past decade, industry has made amazing strides in preventing accidents and in lessening their severity. Part of this has been accomplished by improved guarding of machinery. The larger part, however, has resulted from a new spirit of safety first that has been instilled into workers and management alike. Precisely the opposite has occurred on our highways. Recklessness grows, rather than slackens; improvements in cars breed more deaths and injuries, not less.

What has been done in industry can be done with automobile driving. Just as industrial management disciplines the heedless worker who endangers others, so must the state discipline the heedless driver. If industrial workers can learn the gospel of accident prevention and take it to heart so that it becomes a part of their mental operations, so can the automobile driver learn care, competence and courtesy.

It is time to take drastic action to make our streets and highways safe.

HOW TO WRECK A STATE

Practically every state in the union has been faced with innumerable legislative proposals seeking to "help the people" by over-taxing some industry, business or investment. The time-worn theory of "taxing the rich to help the poor," has been pretty definitely proven fallacious. Such taxes destroy employment and savings.

When every citizen and every industry is making adjustments to meet a more normal basis of income and expenditures, government departments go merrily on demanding more and levying higher and higher tribute on already over-burdened taxpayers.

The people will get no relief until they curb their own demands on the public treasuries and hobble the tax-spenders, who are their public servants.

We may lose confidence but never the confident man.

Is this new stagger system in industry legal under prohibition?

Go Into the Woods
Go With the Crows
Read John Burroughs

By MARSHALL MASLIN

"Go into the woods and behold the evil the trees have to contend with—all typical of the evil we have to contend with—too crowded in places, one tree crushing another by its fall, specimens on every hand whose term of life might be lengthened by a little wise surgery; borers, blight, disease, insect pests, storms, wreckage, thunderbolt scars or destruction—evil in a hundred forms besetting every tree and sooner or later leaving its mark."

"A few escape—oaks, maples, pines, elms—and reach a greater age than the others, but they fail at last, and when they have rounded out their green century, or ten centuries, and go down in a gale, or in the stillness of a summer night, how often younger trees are marred or crushed by their fall! But come back after many long years, and their places are filled, and all the scars are healed. The new generation of trees is feeding upon the accumulations of the old. Evil is turned to good. The destruction of the cyclone, the ravages of fire, the wreckage of the ice storm, are all obliterated and the forest-spirit is rank and full again."

Good old, wise John Burroughs wrote that. John Burroughs who lived to be very old and did not, to the end, lose faith in robins, or trees, or human beings. He comforts us with his profound belief in the strong, rich certainty of conquering good.

And he might have written something like this:

"Go down into the crowd and behold the evil that is the enemy of men. See them poor and shabby, rich and arrogant, whining and treacherous, decent and kind, humble and ambitious, crippled and strong, lusty in their strength, crippled by disease, and see how they push and shove and battle and snarl. See how the strong may trample on the weak and the weak may twist and strike and bring the strong to the ground. See all the vanity and the corruption and find, if you can, the decency that should be there in the heart of humanity."

"And if you think man is dying, live long—longer than any man has ever lived—and return long years from now to see the changes that have come about. To see if the scars are not healed in their children's children and if man is not sweeter and wiser and kinder than you have known him. To see if the decent seed that is within his heart has not germinated and broken the brown earth apart and made green the land. Be patient with man as you are with trees, and have faith in them as you have faith in the fine strength of trees. And believe there is a spirit in them that will save them at the last."

Once Overs

By J. J. MUNDY

"WHAT IS TO BE"

Don't be guided and influenced too much by the thought that "what is to be, will be."

Do you realize that you do not make enough effort to overcome drawbacks?

You have desires and ambitions which should not be dropped just because obstacles come in the way of their fulfillment.

The more difficulties appear, the greater the fighting spirit to surmount them is needed to be successful.

Look back over your life and think of the setbacks you met.

Do you think that if they had not existed your condition would have been improved?

Don't you realize that each time you fought out an issue or a battle to your progress, that you were a little stronger?

Each time you took the fatalistic position, failure came easier?

When you have tried every method known to you and ever angle you can find to approach your objective and meet a stone wall of resistance, is time enough to say "What is to be, will be."

If you have thought out each step of the way and can see no reason for defeat and it is a worthwhile ambition, keep trying.

The favorite story of Ben G. Graham, superintendent of public schools, is one which is always appreciated, he remarks with a sly smile, by the teachers. It concerns a veteran teacher who went to heaven and knocked on the pearly gates.

"Who are you?" demanded the gate-keeper.

"I'm Miss Jones of Jonesville," she answered. "I've taught in the public schools of my community for 50 years. I've served the children, and through them served the state and nation. Now I've come for my reward."

"Well, come in," he invited—rather coldly, she thought.

But inside, a reassuring sight greeted her eyes. Lined up opposite the entrance were hundreds of citizens carrying flags, a band of 120 pieces, an impressive looking reception committee, frock-coated and silk-hatted; a guard of honor in resplendent uniforms, and a battery of cannon ready to fire off a salute.

"Well, this is something like it," she said to herself.

But the lady's happy anticipation was short-lived. While she was waiting there came another knock at the portals; the gate was quickly opened and there stood her former superintendent of schools! Ignoring her completely, the gate-keeper ushered him in.

Then the band played "Hail, the Conquering Hero Comes"; the reception committee doffed their silk hats, the cannon boomed, and the flags waved. When it was all over and the street sweepers came to gather up the ticker tape, the school teacher, who had been shunted into the background, went indignantly up to the gate-keeper.

"So that's the reward I get for my 50 years of faithful service in my community!" she said. "Who is he that you should make such a fuss over him? He's only a superintendent of schools and was only in our community 12 years. Why, I never heard of such a thing!"

The gate-keeper smiled tolerantly. "My dear teacher," he said, "you must remember that heaven is filled with classroom teachers—but this is our first superintendent of schools!"

Well, the kind of punishment those violent bonus seekers deserve is Washington in August.

At all great functions of state the question rises as to how people should dress. "Why?" I asked. "Isn't this short enough for you? What's wrong?"

"It's all right, mama dear, you really look fine, but I wouldn't have you changed for anything."

Not even to be fashionable! I couldn't believe it. Maybe old fashioned mothers symbolize something more than mere stylishness maybe so, but I am still wondering how it happened.

Kansas And Missouri Offer New Judgments On Dry Law

Country Draws Varying Conclusions From Indications Of Support For Both Sides Of Prohibition Question Indicated In Two Western States

Wets are satisfied with the results of recent primaries in Missouri, while dries take equal encouragement from the vote in Kansas. Some comment demerit is concerned in the selection of candidates in the two states, holding that other issues might have been the determining factors.

"Kansas shows them," according to the NEWARK EVENING NEWS, "that there is still some scrap left in America's mascot, the camel, even if, next door in Missouri, Champ Clark's son has sailed to the Democratic nomination for the United States senate on a wet plank." Viewing the situation as a national factor, The Evening News exclaims: "Deserted by Texas, by Florida—woe, woe North Carolina! Prohibition has been in a bad way. But who is this who comes riding, buckety, buckety, over the arid plain? Kansas! Kansas to the rescue! Kansas will not let prohibition perish, unchampioned and unpunished. For the first time in many years, wets in Kansas dared to raise the issue, and they were all beaten by dries."

"The results in Kansas," as viewed by the BOSTON TRANSCRIPT, "are not even significant in themselves. For Kansas is a traditionally dry state. But taken in connection with prospects in practically all the southern states and in a few of the northern, they indicate the extreme difficulty any attempt to repeal the 18th amendment outright will meet. As a practical political question, the wets must face the fact that they, too, must make some concessions, if they are to end the long reign of lawlessness and disorder." The Transcript is convinced that "should congress submit an amendment providing for direct repeal, at least 15 states, according to the latest estimates, would block its ratification."

THE OKLAHOMA CITY OKLAHOMAN concludes that "the Sunflower electors seem to have received mighty little impression from the wet declaration of one Chicago convention and the wet dry, take-your-choice declaration of the other Chicago convention. They remain wedded to their bone-dry idols."

The SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE maintains that "the expected happened," and remarks: "Nobody was excited to learn that, so far as the wet-dry test, the nomination of candidates, Missouri went wet and Kansas dry. That merely meant that both states were as usual."

The Chronicle adds that "this choice of candidates seems to show Kansas quite as dry as it had been before the present stampede." The NEW YORK SUN, observing that "in Kansas, the luster of the 18th amendment remains undimmed," suspects that "the shadow of the Missouri vote, falling across the state line, must cause a shudder among the good people of Kansas."

The PROVIDENCE JOURNAL adds the comment that "the dries are entitled to what satisfaction they can get from their victory in Kansas," for "the wets' cause goes marching on everywhere else."

The one demonstration of the election," says the LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL, "is that Missouri is among the wettest of wets. The MILWAUKEE SENTINEL finds in primary results indications that "support of the Democratic platform is not going to be unfashionable, even in states that, up to the last year or so, were considered prohibition strongholds."

Reviewing the situation The Sentinel states: "Down in North Carolina an uncompromising wet was chosen to succeed the dry Senator Morrison by a record majority of 100,000 votes. In Missouri, Bennett C. Clark, a sturdy champion of repeal and immediate modification of the Volstead act, was nominated over two candidates, one described as a 'passive repealer' and the other a former dry who has got around to a stand for re-submission of the question to the people. Commentators on the ground assert that the Kansas result is attributable to indifference rather than to conviction. They say the renominations of the two officers mentioned are due to party organization and to the fact that personalities rather than platform declarations entered into the contest."

Declaring the probability that there will be Democratic success in Missouri,

The accident victim will be buried this afternoon at the county home. Pictures and fingerprints were taken yesterday by state police from the Butler barracks which will be available for identification purposes.

A number of people have come here to view the body from Youngstown and Cleveland, in the hope

Register 808 Men
For Highway WorkSecond Day's Registration
Attracts Large Group;
Plan Is Lauded

When today's registration of jobless men for state road duty closed at the Y. M. C. A. at noon, Secretary R. L. Meermans, director of the work, reported that 417 additional names had been filed in the highway work register, bringing the total of registered men to 808.

Today's work proceeded with dispatch, although an estimated 300 were unable to sign up during the four-hour registration this morning. Tomorrow's registration will again be conducted between the hours of 8 a. m. and noon.

From Harrisburg today came a congratulatory letter to the Y. M. C. A. office, bearing the signature of R. S. Riddle, federal director of employment for Pennsylvania. He cited the step here to register men for state road jobs as a most commendable one.

Local county and state officials, co-operating with highway department representatives, instituted the new plan by which all men to be employed on road projects here will be chosen from the group registered. They will be picked in the same turn they appeared to register.

The Y building swarmed while a staff of aids worked with Meermans as the men were registered. They enrolled names as swiftly as it was possible to.

Renewed Confidence Caused Stocks To Start Climbing

"Sound Money Principles", Cause For Recent Rise In Stock Market

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, Aug. 16.—Removal of the threat of inflationary legislation by congress and the pledges of the Democratic and Republican conventions to support "sound money principles" caused the recent rise in stock and bond values and stimulated business, Colonel Leonard P. Ayres, vice president of the Cleveland Trust Company, declared today in a formal statement.

"The prompt removal of these developments was a general relief from fear concerning the soundness of the dollar, a universal betterment of sentiment and a notable series of price recoveries."

"Millions of business men here and abroad are seeking in every way known to them to resume business activity. All they ask or need is the opportunity to move forward. The lessons of the past clearly indicate that they will gain that opportunity rather through the removal of the barriers than through governmental expenditures designed to stimulate business into such a pitch of activity as will overcome the barriers."

Shenango Township Has 38 Road Miles

Checkup Is Made By Supervisors And Auditors Yesterday

Shenango township now has a fraction over 38 miles of road to keep up, exclusive of the highways taken over by the state, according to measurements made by the road supervisors and auditors Monday afternoon.

There has been considerable discussion in the township as to the number of miles for which it is responsible, some placing the mileage considerably below 38 miles.

It was for the purpose of getting an accurate idea of the amount of mileage to be kept up that Supervisors John Kennedy, Frank Smith and Joseph Baldwin, and auditors, E. L. Houk, James C. Houk and David N. Newton, together with Edward Dean, secretary and treasurer of the township, drove over the roads yesterday and counted the mileage.

No estimate of the mileage that has been taken over by the state was given, but it is considerable. The supervisors are now trying to get the road which the township must keep up in good shape for winter.

Lost 20 Lbs. of Fat In Just 4 Weeks

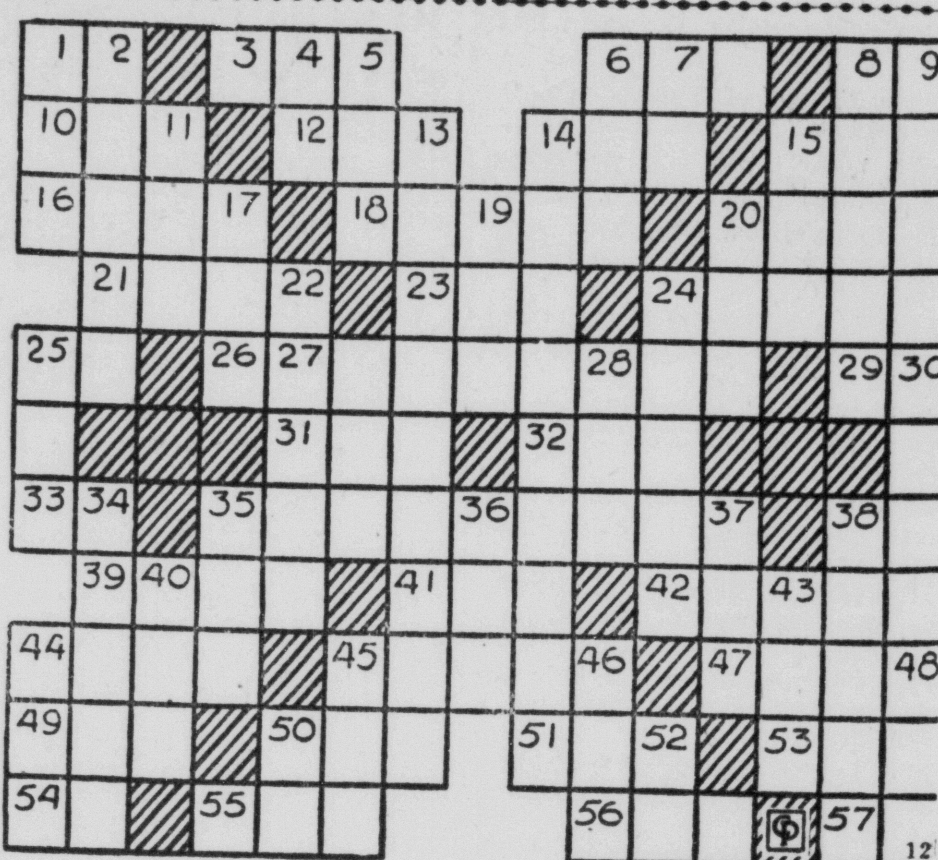

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I'm only 28 yrs. old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and am no longer hungry."

Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know. For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at Eckerd's Cut Rate. New Castle Drug Co. or any drug store—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.

Dinner Stories

POOR BOSS

The lady who sat next to the doctor at the dinner table simply had to entertain him with a recital of her ailments.

"Take a taxi," he growled.
HOUDINI HIMSELF
"I put a trouser button in that cigar machine and do you know what came out?"
"No."
"The tobaccoist."

Sugar Sacks Are Sought By Women

Need Waste Cloth Materials To Fashion Garments For Needy Persons

Although an appeal was made last week by local club women and representatives of the Parent-Teachers Associations, who have organized to make garments from waste cloth materials, little response has been made by the public.

It will be some time before the cloth which has been promised by the National American Red Cross arrives and in the meantime, the women wish to get the work under way here.

Any persons who have sugar sacks, bean sacks, or cloth of any description which they will donate to this effort are asked to call the Red Cross or Associated Charities offices, phone 5084. If it is not possible to bring the cloth to the headquarters of the organizations, someone will call for it.

Mrs. S. D. Pearson, president of the Federation of Woman's Clubs, which is sponsoring the movement along with the P. T. A. women is desirous of having organizations and individuals who are willing to participate in the movement get in touch with her.

MAYOR ORDERS TWO FROM TOWN

Alleged Liquor Operators Incur Ire Of Mayor, Constable

"Don't let the sun set on your head. Get out of town and stay out. If you return both of you will land in the works."

This was the warning today issued by Mayor Charles B. Mayne to William Smith and George Taylor, colored.

Further, a third colored man, Ed. Washington was told to not return to a house in Falls street vicinity, else he would feel the ire of the mayor.

It all came about through the arrest of George Lee, who slipped a razor, so police say, in an unceremonious manner across the throat of one Sam Hughes recently.

Since the razor slid across Hughes' throat, inflicting a not pleasant looking wound, the police have been casting eyes here and there for Lee.

Seek Lee.

Yesterday Detective Jack Young and Patrolman Lynch received information that he might be found in a house in West Falls street. They sought him.

When they entered the house they seized Lee and one of the other trio having a blunt instrument handy dealt a heavy blow to a half gallon jug which contained whisky.

The officers took Lee to the police station and today the other trio faced the mayor on charge of disorderly conduct. One of the complainants was Constable Jimmy Ellison. First ward.

After the mayor had interrogated the trio, Smith, Taylor and Washington, the constable told the mayor that Smith and Taylor had been sent to the workhouse on a liquor charge.

"I arrested these men. They got out not long ago. They came to a neighborhood which is good."

"In order to get a house they had another man rent it, then moved in and were getting ready to business in liquor again," the constable charged.

Issues Ultimatum.

The constable then issued an ultimatum to the effect that the people in the neighborhood would be protected from such alleged liquor vendors.

"The minute you start up," said Ellison "I'll get you. The people want you out of the neighborhood and it won't be long until you're in again if you resume operations," he declared.

Mayor Mayne then took over the proceedings.

He recalled their alleged offense to which the trio entered denials. However, their denials did not meet with agreement of the police.

The mayor topped his sentence off by declaring that the cases would be continued against them, with the warning:

"Don't let the sun set on your head. Get out of town and stay out. If you return both of you will land in the works."

All of which means that Messrs. Smith and Taylor must shake the dust of New Castle from their brogans and that one Ed. Washington cannot return to the house another man rented and that he isn't to 'mess' with people who have alleged sullied reputations.

NO MORE COURT UNTIL MONDAY

There will be no further sessions of the Lawrence County Courts until Monday, it was announced today. Business of the court has been concluded until that time.

To Celebrate At Old People's Home On September 15

Jubilee In Connection With Coming Event At Zelenople

MANY REUNIONS ARE SCHEDULED

ZELIENOPLE, Pa., Aug. 16.—The annual reunion day at the Old People's Home has been announced for September 15, and will be a Jubilee in connection with the donation and Visiting Day, this being the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization of the Home.

The program has not been completed, but will be bigger and better this year than former years, on account of the anniversary. It is under the direction of the Pittsburgh Synod of the United Lutheran church, and in charge of Rev. and Mrs. Frank Richter, who have for the past several years managed it very capably. A fine new addition has been built to the home and dedicated about a year ago, making it twice as large as formerly. The home was organized twenty-five years ago with some cottages by some ministers of the Lutheran church of the Pittsburgh Synod, and has grown into a fine large brick building, where almost fifty aged are given a Home.

Articles made by the aged men and women are on display on this day, as well as the Home open for inspection. Friends and relatives of those in the Home are urged to visit them on this day, it being of much interest to these elderly people who make their home here, and they look forward to the day. There will be speaking, music and other features, the program being arranged by those in charge at this time.

The Home is located in a very pretty oak grove, where some of the oldest and largest oak trees in Western Pennsylvania, grow. It is near the Children's Orphans Home and Farm school, and is particularly nice this year on account of the beautiful flowers on the grounds planted and cared for by Rev. Richter. There is also a church in connection with the Home where services are held each Sunday, and the inmates are members, it being a part of the Pittsburgh Synod, with Rev. Richter as pastor. The program will be completed and announced in a short time.

The annual reunion of the Schweinegruber family was held on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Rice, near Harmony, with about ninety present. Those in attendance were from New Castle, Ellwood City, Gibsonia and Harmony and Zelenople, and the country near here.

A picnic dinner was served at noon on the lawn of the Rice home, the table being decorated in flowers of the season. The afternoon was spent socially, with games and contests, and a social way. A business meeting was held, when officers were elected, and plans made for the next reunion. A sport committee composed of four young people will plan the place and date of the next reunion, also the program for the day. The officers for the coming year are: Herbert Rice, Ellwood City, President; Fred Allen, New Castle, vice president; Mrs. J. A. Beuhler, Zelenople, secretary; and Mrs. Russel Gervig, treasurer. A large number of the members of the family reside in this community, although many also live in Lawrence county, where the reunion is usually held.

The Big Five family reunion will be held at Rittman Park, Rittman, O., this year Thursday, Aug. 25. Many of the members of the family reside in this community, also New Castle, Ellwood City and that vicinity. The families include the Wise, Rice, Moyer, Boyer, and Ziegler families. Many from here, also a number from Ellwood City and New Castle will attend.

Mrs. J. S. Huff of New Brighton is historian, and information should be sent her for the family history, which is interesting, as many were early settlers of this community.

The annual reunion of the Wehman family will be held at Ewing Park, Ellwood City, Saturday, August 20. All members of the family are invited to be present, and enjoy the day. The reunion includes a large number, many of whom live in this community. A basket dinner, and program of sport will be the feature of the day.

The annual reunion of the Kocher family will be held at May Park, near Evans City, Saturday, August 27. All members of the family are urged to be present at this reunion. Several families reside in New Castle, Ellwood City and Wurtzburg, also a number here, as well as eastern Ohio. A large crowd is expected to be present this year. A picnic dinner and supper will be served and there will be a program for the afternoon.

Mrs. Elizabeth Scheler of near Portersville is quite ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Stauffer, of Grandview avenue. Mrs. Scheler who is 86 years of age was brought to her daughter's home ill, and has suffered a slight stroke of paralysis. On account of her advanced age, her condition is considered serious. Her home is near Portersville, on the Perry highway, and she was brought here after she was taken ill.

SON IS BORN TO ANNE LINDBERGH AT ENGLEWOOD

Mother And Son Are Doing Well Doctor's Report

Sudden News Is Flashed Around The World At Early Hour This Morning

THANKFULNESS IN LINDBERGH HOME

By MARGARET LANE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., Aug. 16.—Anne Lindbergh gave birth to a son at 7:30 this morning. Mother and child are doing well.

This sudden news was flashed around the world this morning, waking a flood of renewed sympathy for the tragically bereaved mother of a few months ago, now a mother once more. Lindbergh's son, once again in her arms, and thankfulness in her heart that the tragedy of her first child had not robbed her of her second.

The news of the birth was confirmed by Dr. E. M. Hawks, one of the attending physicians.

Dr. Hawks merely announced the birth of a son to Mrs. Lindbergh and added:

"All other information will have to come from the Lindbergh family."

At the home of Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow where the baby was born, it was said that an announcement would be made later.

Dr. E. H. Dennen, who assisted Dr. Hawks, also confirmed the news.

Overnight the Lindbergh family have "come back". After months of grief and retirement in their Englewood home, Colonel Lindbergh unexpectedly turned up at Newark airport yesterday and flew for the first time since he ceased searching for his murdered child. Several hours after he landed, Anne Lindbergh gave him another son. Lindbergh is in the air again, and there is a baby in the house.

It is believed that the birth was unexpected, for had it been known to be so imminent, nothing could have persuaded Colonel Lindbergh to leave his wife, even for the two hours that he was trying out the new low-wing monoplane. He chatted easily with officials when he came down, showing no sign of anxiety or strain, and almost as soon as the public knew that Lindbergh had been seen about once more, the first real news there has been of him for months, the sudden and far greater news broke—he has his son again!

The amazing courage which Anne Lindbergh showed during the cruel months of suspense and horror after the disappearance of little Charles Lindbergh, Jr., and which even brought criticism from some people, believing her "too stoical to have feelings," has borne fruit at last. Her calm, her enforced tranquility, her almost miraculous tearlessness in the face of a woman's bitterest grief, have ensured a safe entry into the world of a baby who might quite easily have died before his time to be born.

Rumors ran riot at the time of the kidnapping that the birth of the second child was imminent. This was not true, of course, but it was widely believed until Mrs. Dwight Morrow and a spokesman of the Lindbergh family officially announced that the child would not be born until the end of August or beginning of September. The trial of the young mother endured, then, was at a far more dangerous time than if it had been immediately preceding the birth, and her iron self-control was all the more heroic.

Details, however, were almost as elusive as they were during the search for the lost first child. Colonel Lindbergh, true to his dislike of publicity, for hours this morning would neither confirm nor deny, re-awakening fears in the hearts of millions that something had gone wrong. Surely it would be too much to believe, if this second happiness of their lives were turning into tragedy.

The country waited breathlessly as soon as the first murmurs of unconfirmed news had got about, but Lindbergh would not speak.

At the Morrow home, where the telephone was not left to ring unanswered as in the flying colonel's house, the answer was first of all "we have no comment to make," and later, "there will be an announcement at 9:15." Surely this looked like good news?

The sheer silence bred strange rumors. Everyone who heard the uncertain news thought of how many hearts it must rejoice. Even outside the family circle—the Lindberghs, the Morrises, and their nearest friends—there is Betty Gow, home in Scotland to recover from the shock she suffered at the loss of her first beloved child; how her heart must leap at the thought that there is another little boy for her to care for, how her heart must beat at the thought of her new responsibility, almost too precious to be borne!

Only those who know how, and why, the murdered baby died can hear the news without rejoicing. Guilt and fear, even in the lowest, are too strong for that.

Your Luck for Today

Swedes used to think they would be victorious if they started battle on Tuesday.

The full moon rising on Tuesday brings luck to lovers.

But, if you look at the full moon in August, you will be the victim of slander. The only way to avoid this is to have someone throw stones at your house.

Good luck or bad luck comes in streaks; one piece of luck will be followed by two just like it.

Entries Slow In Tournament

Postpone For One Week Final Date For Entering Third Tennis Tourney

MAY ALSO DROP ENTRANCE FEE

Entries are coming in very slow for the third annual city-wide tennis tourney, and Tourney Director Tully Calazza, has postponed for one week the final date for entering the tourney. There are only about twenty players signed up for the tourney. Last year there was about 200.

If not enough entries are secured by Monday night, August 22, there will not be a tennis tourney here this summer. Seven cups will be given the winners this year, the same as last. There are very few seniors entered, among them are Francis "Red" Sowersby and Attorney Joe McFate. Lowell H. Wingard is expected to enter again, and also Dan Carroll, another of the city's crack tennis players.

It is fully expected that all of the league players will get in this championship competition. Those desiring to enter the tourney can register at the Cripps Hardware Store, Sporting Goods Store, with Hymie Levine, Johnny Brincko or Tully Calazza.

Legion Of Honor Match Squared By Allen's Golfers

Series In Golf Tournament Now Stands At Two Each For Masonic Vets

As had been previously predicted in these columns Capt. Allen's superb approachers won a widely heralded victory over Capt. Sweezy's brassie last night, evening up the match at two-all and assuring that two more matches must be played before the championship is settled.

The Masonic veterans played par golf last evening, some excellent scores being turned in. Bob Fleming of Sweezy's team shot a brilliant 45, which was offset by Gomer Emery's 46, while Dr. Hyman Frank who has been one of the dependables on Allen's team kicked in with his customary 47. Even Captain Allen himself shot a 47 to assure his side of a victory. Capt. Sweezy after falling down on the first nine, came back with a 47 on the difficult second, too late to score.

One of the big surprises was the brilliant display by Howard Geary and Chris Walker, who stalked in from the approaching darkness with the announcement that Geary had shot a 46 and Walker a 48. They even had the scores marked up on their card to prove their claims. After a pinch of salt had been applied, the scores were duly recorded.

Players in the foursome which included Dr. C. C. Green, lost a fine drink (soft) when Dr. Green, laying three feet from the cup on hole 14 announced he would buy the drinks for the group if he made the birdie, but he gracefully missed it and had to take a par.

Several of the mainstays on Allen's team were among the missing last evening, but Capt. Sweezy was also short a few stars, so the honors in this respect were even. Among those whose faces were missed were Sheriff Boyd, Walter Reynolds, J. A. Hewitt, George Lawrence, Mercer County Treasurer; Dr. Reed, George Muse, and others. Players who do not show up at the next match on Monday evening at the Muny course will be penalized by not receiving an invitation to the corn roast which may be held the latter part of the month.
